FRESH LOCAL ORGANIC

A Hop In The Right Direction...

CSA (Community Supported Agriculture) 2020 Registration

Our Community Supported Agriculture program provides an opportunity for community members to make a connection with local farmers and their food through a farm share. CSA helps preserve the relationship among food, families and farmers: securing the future of local agriculture and helping support the start of the farming season for small farms. The purchase of your share will include twenty consecutive weekly boxes of assorted local organic seasonal produce. Boxes also include one of our favorite cookbooks to ensure culinary success and help you utilize the delicious produce in your CSA. A newsletter is distributed periodically updating you about what is happening in the fields and the farming community. You will get to know your farmer, understand what seasonal means and know where your food is coming from.

Our Farm Account Program, Bunny Bucks, is a pre-paid account system that supports the farmer as the season is starting, gives customers 10% more purchase power, and allows you the flexibility to shop throughout the 2020 season at the Farmers Market.

Rabbit Fields is a small organic farm on the fertile alluvial fan of the Skagit River. Driven by enthusiastic energy and a passion for sustainable living practices, Rabbit Fields is dedicated to providing fresh, local, organic produce to our community, while preserving and maintaining its farm land.

2020 is Rabbit Fields thirteenth season farming independently. Learning curves have been met, nature challenged, experiments embraced and Northeasters endured all in an effort to create community, appreciation for sustainability and a universal connection through food. The future holds that of challenge, growth, education, and a continued effort to join our fields with your dinner table.

We love what we do, embracing the farming lifestyle. Add Rabbit Fields to your daily routine, let us challenge your taste buds, provide a culinary experience and unite your friends and family over plates dressed with our freshest bounty. We look forward to meeting you, farming for you and bringing our field to your kitchen.
